AMUSEMENT NOTES

* The Traveling Salesman.

James Forbes, the author of "The Chorus Lady" has secured an important success with his new comedy "The Traveling Salesman" which is announced for its first presentation in this city at the opera house early next month. The play abounds with mirth, humor and sentiment, with a glance now and then at the more serious things of life, are the characteristics which seem to put it in a class by itself.

"The Traveling Salesman" is simple and to the point. Both Elliott is about to lose an apparently worthless parcel of land through a tax sale. A professional lawyer, Franklin Royce, enters into a plan with a millionaire sharper to buy it, knowing that the railroad wants it and will pay any price. During a poker game which, incidentally, in the second act, is the most risible creation ever emanated from the brain of a playwright, Royce becomes intoxicated and babbles about the scheme to Bob Blake, already heels over head in love with the girl. Blake anticipates the intended flank movement of the conspirators and plans to circumvent them. This impetuous action on his part involves him in all sorts of predicaments and imperils his position with his firm. This action on his part is also misconstrued by the girl he loves and for a while, his affair of the heart is in danger. Throughout the rest of the play mirth runs riot and the audience is never for a moment without a hearty laugh.

Mr. Forbes has constructed a play with considerable ingenuity with an intention of providing a vehicle to move even the most blasé theatregoer into an atmosphere of good humor. There is not a single character in the piece that does not contribute to the hundreds of laughs with which the play abounds. The same inexhaustible fecundity of verbal coinage that was so manifest in "The Chorus Lady" will be found strongly in evidence in this comedy success of "The Traveling Salesman."

A Venerable Favorite.

"Eight Bells" the show that is to come to the opera house soon has been on the road sixteen years. That is a pretty long time for one play to be going the rounds and at the same time to meet the great success that has come to this one. There are only a few who can point to such a record and one can name them on the fingers on one hand and still have a couple left with which to scratch his head and try to think of more. "Eight Bells" when first produced was the product of Byrne Brothers in every sense of the word. One built the scenery, another painted it, another made all the ironwork for the frames of every trick and another evolved most of the acrobatic work. The designing and superintending of the whole was done by John F. Byrne, who is the inventor of all its tricks and mechanical effects. From the very first it was an assured success and it went on the road so gloriously that John Byrne who is the sole owner is a very rich man, and his brothers who have always been with the show are almost as well fixed financially for they have been drawing big salaries. The Byrne Brothers are sons of New England, having all been born in Norwich, Conn., which city they still make their home. There were originally five of them, Michael, John, Andrew, James and Matthew. Matthew was the youngest and died several years ago. Every year new material is being added to the play to freshen it up and keep it in touch with every day affairs. The funny white horse, the great revolving ship, as well as the novel acrobatic feats are retained and several vaudeville features are added for this season. To these, and the fact that the play is clean and wholesome is attributed the success of the piece.

HEPBURN RATE
LAW IN BALANCE

Belief Grows That Law May be Knocked Out

BY U. S. SUPREME COURT

One Reason Advanced Is That Justice
Moody, a Supporter of the Law,
Is Ill and May Never Return to the Bench.

Washington, Oct. 20.—That the supreme court of the United States is going to knock out the Hepburn rate law, with especial reference to the granting to the interstate commerce commission of power to regulate rates, is an impression which has gained a strong hold in well informed quarters. One of the best informed officials of the commission yesterday said he believed the court would hold that the question of what constitutes a reasonable rate is one for the courts to determine in the last analysis. A decision of this sort, he added, would practically render the commission valueless.

The idea that the law will be knocked out, it is learned, prevails among members of the commission. With it held to be invalid they see nothing ahead but an amendment to the constitution. It is believed that shippers would make a violent protest and would move at once for a constitutional amendment. One reason why the law is believed to be in jeopardy is that Justice Moody, who is supposed to favor the statute, is ill and may never return to the bench. With him gone it is believed the justices who take a very conservative view as to rate regulation are in a majority. Lawyers have got the impression from questions put to them in interstate commerce cases that the court gravely questions the law.

It is expected that the coming winter will see a decision that will go to the root of the rate regulation question. Knowledge that such a decision is likely to come will doubtless hold back important railroad legislation proposed in congress until the court has acted.

Causes Sickness

Good Health Impossible with a Disordered Stomach.

There is nothing that will create sickness or cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people daily contract serious maladies simply through disregard or abuse of the stomach. NO DYSPEPSIA OR
UNDIGESTED FOOD

A Little Diapiesin Now Will Settle
Your Out-of-Order Stomach and End All Indigestion Five Minutes Later.

There would not be a case of indigestion here if readers who are subject to stomach trouble knew the tremendous anti-ferment and digestive virtue contained in Diapiesin. This harmless preparation will digest a heavy meal without the slightest fuss or discomfort, and relieve the sour, acid stomach in five minutes, besides overcoming all foul, nauseous odors from the breath. Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on each 50-cent case of Diapiesin. Then you will readily understand why this promptly cures indigestion and removes such symptoms as heartburn, a feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, belching of gas and eructations of undigested food, water brash, nausea, headache, biliousness and many other bad symptoms; and, besides, you will not need laxatives to keep your stomach, liver and intestines clean and fresh.

If your stomach is sour and full of gas or your food doesn't digest, and your meals don't seem to fit, why not get a 50-cent case from your druggist and make life worth living? Absolute relief from stomach misery and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow five minutes after, and, besides, one case is sufficient to cure a whole family of such trouble.

Surely, a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Diapiesin, which will always, either at daytime or during night, relieve your stomach misery and digest your meals, is about as handy and valuable a thing as you could have in the house.

RESHIP ALIENS.

Detectives Find Plot to Send Deported
Ones Back Here.

Brussels, Oct. 20.—The Belgian government has been informed that detectives at Antwerp, Marseilles, Rotterdam and Liverpool have discovered an organized system of reshipping to New York undesirable aliens in violation of the immigration and labor laws.

Large numbers of these persons are being reshipped weekly as members of ships' crews. They are provided with bogus papers and certificates furnished by an organization which the Belgian immigration commission is trying to suppress.

64 YEARS
AT ONE WORK

Francis Walker of St. Johnsbury Has a Novel Record

WITH FAIRBANKS SCALE CO.

Ever Since October 8, 1845, He Has Been Employed by the Concern, and
He Is Now 85 Years of Age.

St. Johnsbury, Oct. 20.—The friends of Francis Walker claim for him the New England record of continuous service with one firm. Mr. Walker, who on next Wednesday reaches his 80th birthday, came to St. Johnsbury October 7, 1845 and the next day entered the foundry at the Fairbanks Scale works to learn the moulder's trade, receiving $100 a year for his work. Five years later he was made superintendent of the foundry department of the factory and has continued without interruption in that capacity ever since or a total of 64 years.

He was born in Pascham, October 27, 1824, the son of Abel and Sophronia Walker and was educated at Pascham academy. As a boy he was employed on the farm of William Mattocks son of Governor Mattocks as chore boy and early formed the habits of industry and faithful efficiency which has characterized his long and useful life.

At the time he began work here, the force at the foundry consisted of six men and the firm were making stoves, plows, hoes, forks and scales. Sometime during the fifties the work of making scales alone was adopted, and Mr. Walker has seen that business grow from hardly more than an experiment to one of the leading industries in the world, and the factory from a small beginning to the largest of its kind on the globe.

At the present time nearly 200 men are employed in the foundries and Mr. Walker has followed nearly two generations to the grave of the family who gave the factory its name. He represented St. Johnsbury in the legislature in 1890. The couple only son, Arthur E., at one time a prominent druggist here, died in 1901.

Mr. Walker is a Congregationalist and a staunch Republican. Although his many years show their mark in his enfeebled walk his mind retains its natural keenness as is shown by conversation with him. He always has a fund of stories and experiences of the earlier days and never lacks eager listeners.

His only recreation is his annual pilgrimage to his native town of Pascham and he can generally be found at his post in the foundry overreaching the work to which he has given more than three score years of his life.

Vermont Climate.

Thus says the St. Albans Messenger:—
Snowfall thus early in the North-west is a reminder that the traditional rigor of the New England climate isn't a patch on the severity of the west on this continent. Some day, perhaps, the public will begin to take note of it and Vermont will lose a reputation for a bleak and blizzardy Arctic season

Let Me Tell You Something

A woman who is sick and suffering, and won't at least try a medicine which has the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is to blame for her own wretched condition.

There are literally hundreds of thousands of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over thirty years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering.

Read what these women say:

Camden, N. J.—"It is with pleasure that I send my testimonial for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, hoping it may induce other suffering women to avail themselves of the benefit of this valuable remedy."

"I suffered from pains in my back and side, sick headaches, no appetite, was tired and nervous all the time, and so weak I could hardly stand. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman—and this valuable medicine shall always have my praise."—Mrs. W. P. Valentine, 902 Lincoln Ave., Camden, N. J.

Erie, Pa.—"I suffered for five years from female troubles, and at last was almost helpless. I tried three doctors but they did me no good. My sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has made me well and strong. I hope all suffering women will just give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, for it is worth its weight in gold."—Mrs. J. P. Endlich, R. F. D. 7, Erie, Pa.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering from the same trouble.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for her advice—it is free and always helpful.

that doesn't belong to her and never did.

Vermont is a pretty good state to live in and develops a type of physique that is well calculated to sustain extraordinary rigors. The shocking things about Vermont climate, however, are the tremendous falls and rises in temperature within a few hours, the variation between the dryer hills and the damper valleys and the general uncertainty, not only of the thermometer readings but of the atmospheric pressure and humidity as well.
